

Somerset Archaeology & Natural History Society

2:30pm Saturday 4th February 2012

Wyndham Hall (next to the castle)

Free Entry – All Welcome

Natural History on the Holnicote Estate By Nigel Hester

"The Holnicote Estate covers 5042 hectares (12,500 acres) of Exmoor National Park and includes the high tors of Dunkery and Selworthy Beacons, with breathtaking views in all directions. Its traditional cottages and farms are grouped in and around the villages of Selworthy, Allerford, Bossington, Horner and Luccombe."

"SANHS deepening our understanding and appreciation of the natural world, promoting the study of all aspects of the natural history and geology of Somerset"